* We're going to infiltrate convention where DCC is doing a tech demo

- launching cyborg arm
- we need to interrupt so DCC loses trust of PPP
- cyborg needs an outside energy and a remote controller
- people will be cosplaying homunculi, so we'll blend in

* I learn how we were made; summary of all the different classes; now I know how to make spells

- I share this with the team

* I took 3 damage from touching lab railing

* We leave lab and enter a messy library

* We enter secret room behind fireplace and hear voices

* Scientist catches us but we play dumb

* Pyotr and I touch rail and get our energy temp. drained as punishment

* We get transported in floating carriage to the event

* We get led to the DCC stage

* We get to the loading bay while Alistair causes a distraction

* We sneak out while Vera causes a distraction

* Our cover is we work for a "Fake" ECC

* Pyotr talks to truck guard and is tweaking

* I sneak into the truck w/ all the commotion

- can't break wire (chewing/touch drains life)

- go in sewer

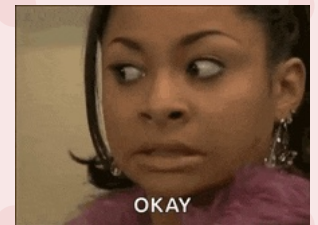

* Peak out of grate where wire runs and see arm w/ screws holding the wire in

* I convince them I'm here to work on the generator/wire

* Pyotr takes mic but people start thinking he's a real homunculi

* Alistair also starts hijacking w/ Vera; they get people clapping and distracted w/ a speech that charms them

* I successfully mess w/ generator, but in the main room they enter combat w/ arm; arm is malfunctioning so they want me to stop working but I rolled nat. 20 to convince that I'm actually fixing the issue

- * DCC police come; we hide in the sewers then return home!
